

FUNTIME LEARNING CENTER INC.

As our childcare center reopen, extra precautions like more cleaning, sanitizing, hand washing, and personal protective equipment are part of what the 'new normal' looks like.

While these may be important measures to take, they do come at a significant financial cost — and when centers are operating with less enrolment, more staff and additional supplies, any support from parents is welcome.

As you begin to return, now is the perfect time to update supplies lists to include items that help with the new health and safety requirements. By sending a few extra items, parents you can do your part to help the center, significantly reduce their expenses and prevent more drastic measures like increasing tuition.

See the list below for items that parents can provide to help during these challenging times!

General Tips

Label everything

Make sure that nothing gets mixed up, especially while teachers are trying to keep items separated to prevent cross-contamination. The supplies that the children will be using throughout the day will be in individual containers. Meals will no longer be served family style, but individually while social distancing as much as possible. Meals will be served using disposable items disposable items.

Keep items organized by activity

This makes it SO much easier to find everything you need when getting ready for an activity. Please label all outerwear and shoes.

Keep everything easily accessible in the bag

Try to not have everything piled on top of each other. Ideally, teachers should be able to open the bag and see every item that's inside immediately. If you have any questions please contact the office, 313-978-8464
